This letter is a request for transparency of reasons for extending any police or military complaint investigation beyond 120 days AND transparency of any potential cover-up motive for an investigation decision, therefore no ethical elected government leader should oppose this request. Please consider that Aboriginal and black and brown people and caucasian women across Canada are disproportionately affected by police misconduct, there are also caucasian male victims, and good cops are also victims of bad cops, therefore with exception of the perpetrators of police or military misconduct and their enablers, every Canadian will benefit from a 120-Days Police & Military Complaints Transparency Bill Of Rights. I am writing as a victim of a 4-year investigation of police misconduct, seeking to improve government policies across Canada so as to ensure that what happened to me can never happen to any other human being in Canada, please do not let my political activities prevent the government from assessing the merits of my request and issuing a good faith decision.

We all saw the effect of Canada pausing funding of Hockey Canada due to the handling of a sexual misconduct complaint, the same principle applies to police and the military that are yet to implement a 120 Days Police & Military Non-Criminal Complaints Transparency Bill of Rights. Ottawa Police settled with a Deputy Police Chief who faced allegations of sexual harassment, the investigation to hearing took about 4 years, and Ottawa settled before we could find out if the Deputy Chief was innocent or guilty, that shocking and unethical decision would incite more police misconduct, Canada and Ontario should pause Ottawa Police funding until there is evidence that they are not using government funds to cover up police misconduct and incite sexual harassment by not implementing a 120 Days Police Complaints Transparency Bill of Rights.

The military and police have generated years of media reports of misconduct because of the subconscious belief of its leaders that a zero-tolerance culture is unrealistic, Ottawa City Council is not immune from the virus of tolerance for some level of police misconduct. The reason for writing to affected ministers is that just like I am doing with Newfoundland and Labrador Constabulary Act, once any city or province or federal government implements a 120 Days Police Complaints Transparency Bill of Rights, I can use that as leverage on other governments.

Money issues can be resolved after the fact, that women have suffered enough, they should not suffer one more day, ALL governments should immediately co-operate with the Minister of Defence speedy implementation of the recommendation to transfer military police sexual misconduct criminal investigations to local police forces.

Today a police officer with a complaint against them can continue in the police for years. In the USA the black and other communities have been asking for a database to track complaints against bad cops, I am asking for a public database to prevent any improper purpose of permitting an investigation to exceed 120 days; the names should be excluded, victim disclosure consent is required, the Police can redact the complaint with reasons, but if after the investigation any reason for redaction or delay in a decision is false, that should lead to charges and or immediate termination of employment, implementation costs are cheaper than class action lawsuits. The Newfoundland and Labrador Constabulary Act is the only police force in Canada that has a firm statutory deadline to investigate a complaint, that deadline is 90 days, however, they should post the complaints online.

There have been years of media reports on police misconduct, yet Ottawa Council is yet to enact a 120-Days Police Complaints Bill Of Rights Accountability & Transparency Bylaw, does that “omits to do anything” “not take all reasonable measures to stop them” violate s21b,22.2,23 Criminal Code? Status quo leadership has failed to change a culture that permits the good cops (majority) to be tarnished by bad cops (minority), it will take elected leaders with competence and an ethical backbone, to root out the “cancerous” status quo.

In my humble opinion, if I do not get a good faith response that deals with the merits of my request, the only rational reason is that the government is mistreating me due to my political activities.

120 DAYS POLICE COMPLAINTS BILL OF RIGHTS PROBLEM

On October 29, 2021, the CBC reported the former Ottawa Police Chief's comments re root out the “rot in the organization ... of cancer”.

On June 16, 2022, the CBC reported that an Ottawa Police investigator of police misconduct is now being investigated for police misconduct, yet Council is yet to enact a 120-Day Police Complaints Bill Of Rights Accountability & Transparency Bylaw. Voters should make an informed decision on the competence and ethical judgement of our elected representatives; ALL current members of the Council and candidates should disclose their position on a 120-Day Police Complaints Bill Of Rights Accountability & Transparency Bylaw.

<https://www.ottawalife.com/article/mayorality-candidate-calls-for-a-bill-of-rights-to-hold-rogue-police-accountable-and-protect-citizens?c=13>

Since the OIPRD 2009 existence, they have listed ONLY 17 hearings re Ottawa Police misconduct complaints, but in 2019 the OPS website claimed they received 230 complaints, but unless there is a hearing, there is no public record on the content of the complaints. If 2019 was representative of other years, from 2009 to 2022 that is 13 years and maybe 2,300 complaints and 1% hearings. Other than aggregate statistical information for Ontario, there is no case-by-case information on misconduct complaints which did not make it to a hearing, and zero information on Policy Complaints.

"Ottawa Police Service Board members are accessories to the rape culture... gross incompetence of the OPSB can be measured by their inaction on multiple files where OPS cops have committed serious and at times violent crimes against both citizens and their fellow employees without consequences. The OPSB's propensity to turn a blind eye to the victims of rape, sexual assault and misogyny have made them all accessories by default ...they have behaved as meek cowards ...while allowing OPS Chief ... to boss them around like children ... Ironically, it was .. herself who constantly and very harshly criticized Mayor .. city staff and other councillors over a lack of transparency .... her preponderance for secrecy and not disclosing information to the public or hiding behind convenient rules created by her fellow politicians and police management to not disclose information ... lack of understanding of her role as chair of the OPSB..."

120 DAYS POLICE COMPLAINTS BILL OF RIGHTS SOLUTION

A police misconduct investigation is not a criminal investigation, that does not mean that the misconduct being investigated is not a crime, therefore s21b s22.2 s23 Criminal Code precludes Council / OPSB from rejecting this solution. 120 days is an OIPRD benchmark for the Chief's decision, NFLD does not permit any police misconduct investigation to exceed 90 days.

An OIPRD complaint is a formal public process, a misconduct complaint hearing is public, and most misconduct investigations can be concluded between 1 day to 1 week. Good cops are also reputational victims of bad cops, Aboriginals, visible minorities and caucasian female police officers are disproportionately affected by police misconduct.

Reducing crime is an important metric, but Police Chiefs are hardly accused of being soft on crime, the 2nd most important Police metric is the number of complaints accepted by the OIPRD (formal complaints process) or OPS informal public complaints process or OPS internal staff complaints process.

Therefore we need to implement a Municipal Act "by-laws respecting ... Accountability and transparency of ... its local board" 120-Days Police Complaints Transparency Bill Of Rights [public online anonymized copy of every misconduct or policy accepted or rejected the complaint, with redactions if necessary, police investigator decision, the reason for extending any investigation beyond 120 days if applicable, the reason for any redaction that is contrary to victim consent if applicable, so that the public can hold OPS Chief / OPSB / Council directly or indirectly accountable for inciting police misconduct by covering up misconduct].

Other problems are a symptom of one root cause; the lack of a Police Complaints Bill of Rights.

Implementing a transparent police complaints process will deter misconduct, which is cheaper than millions wasted settling with accused officers and victims.

Subject: Consent Request .. Re 120 day Police Complaints Bill of Rights Accountability & Transparency Bylaw? .....

Dear ....

I would like to thank you for putting your name forward for public service, I have been involved in public service since I first ran in 2005, therefore I am fully aware that there is a public service price which is not visible to people who have never run for elected public service, once again, thank you for caring enough to run for elected public service.

Issue: I asked the current Ottawa City Council to pass an “accountability and transparency” bylaw requiring the Ottawa Police Services Board “OPSB” to publicly disclose anonymized excerpts of any complaint investigation over the 120 days Office of the Independent Police Review Director “OIPRD” benchmark and the Police Chief and OPSB reasons for permitting the investigation to exceed 120 days.

We should work together to stop the status quo of Police Chief / OPSB abuse of the police complaints process ... I am writing to all candidates (including current Council candidates and mayoral competitors), I would like to post information re all candidates that consent to a 120 day Police Complaints Bill of Rights...

Municipal Act “by-laws respecting ... Accountability and transparency of ... its local board” requires that if Chief / OPSB truly believe that disclosure of their reasons will compromise a misconduct investigation that should have been concluded within 1 week, Chief / OPSB need to disclose that on a public online database, so the Chief and or OPSB can be if necessary held accountable (electoral defeat or termination or suspension or fine or charged under the Police Service Act or Criminal Code etc.) for providing a false reason for extending an investigation beyond 120 days, so as to facilitate a crime or other misconduct; https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OF64Se1p7pg&t=20s&ab\_channel=AdeOlumide

Background: The reason why the military and police have generated years of media reports of misconduct, is the subconscious belief of its leaders that a zero-tolerance culture is unrealistic, Council is not immune from the virus of tolerance for some level of police misconduct. I know this because I made a formal OIPRD complaint about Ottawa Police 4 years ago, and the Ottawa Police Chief has not issued a decision ...

Honourable Murray Rankin, Minister of Indigenous Relations and Reconciliation
Honourable Harry Bains, Minister of Labour
Honourable Nathan Cullen, Minister of Municipal Affairs
Honourable Mike Farnworth, Minister of Public Safety and Solicitor General

This letter is a request for you to implement online transparency of reasons for extending any police force complaint investigation beyond 120 days AND transparency of any potential cover-up motive for an investigation or a refusal to investigate a complaint, therefore no ethical elected government leader should oppose this request. Please consider that Aboriginal and black and brown people and caucasian women across Canada are disproportionately affected by police misconduct, there are also caucasian male victims, and good cops are also victims of bad cops, therefore with exception of the perpetrators of police or military misconduct and their enablers, every Canadian will benefit from a 120-Days Police & Military Complaints Transparency Bill Of Rights. I am writing as a victim of a 4-year investigation of police misconduct, seeking to improve government policies across Canada so as to ensure that what happened to me can never happen to any other human being in Canada, please do not let my political activities prevent the government from assessing the merits of my request and issuing a good faith decision.

CREATE OR AMEND EXISTING BYLAWS POLICIES TO ACHIEVE SIMILAR INTENT

- i. Create a bylaw or policy or rule or guideline re “integrity” “transparency” “accountability” “open government” “health, safety and well-being” “protection of persons and property” online system for all complaints from a member of the public that are accepted or rejected by the OIPRD, it shall include the OIPRD decision, the Police Chief reply (if any), the Complainant reply (if any) AND inform the Police Chief that if a complaint is handled in a manner that violates the Criminal Code or a statute, OR if the Police Chief exceeds 60 days to issue a decision to OIPRD or reply to the Complainant, this could be cause for termination. The public record may if necessary be anonymized. One reply may suffice for same matter complaints e.g. police handling of a truck protest.
- ii. Create a bylaw or policy or rule or guideline to receive complaints about private organizations or 3rd party public organizations or partnerships which use municipal taxpayer funds to violate a law, right of reply by the organization and a staff recommendation to Council or a Committee on whether the organization may continue receiving funding. Staff should not engage bylaw resources to investigate these 3rd party organizations or partnerships, they should simply recommend cessation or continuation of municipal taxpayer funding based on the documentary evidence provided by the complainant and the reply. Staff may in exceptional circumstances reserve the right to request an oral hearing or a written reply on a specific issue that is relevant to a decision on whether to cease or continue municipal taxpayer funding. They should not make a finding of fact on the allegation that an organization violated a law, rather they should make a list of questions that they could not be determined with certainty. This can lead to better internal controls in order to qualify for future funding. For example if an organization receives funding to provide a service to the public, and they deny a service by deliberately making a false statement, that is easier to assess, but if they deny a service without providing reasons or they refuse to respond to a request for a service, it would be hard for the City to determine whether that differential treatment is intent to violate the Human Rights Code or Criminal Code or another law.

iii. Create a bylaw or policy or rule or guideline that there is a lawful process to redact records and request exemptions, the decision of a Privacy Commissioner maybe be challenged in court, therefore there is no justification for beyond all reasonable doubt evidence of crimes like refusing to process an MFIPPA Act request (s341a fraudulent concealment s380(1a) Criminal Code “falsehood, deceit, other fraudulent means” to defraud MFIPPA Act records) or abusing staff s2 Charter freedom of conscience by directing staff to stop processing an MFIPPA Act request (s22 Criminal Code person counselling), this should cause termination of employment.

iv. Create a bylaw or policy or rule or guideline that OIPRD decisions to only accept misconduct complaints, if they are serious, does not preclude Police Chief discretion to reply an OIPRD misconduct complaint decision in a manner that will deter future misconduct. As determined by the opinion of the OPSB, an unreasonable reply or an unreasonable lack of reply, could be a ground for OPSB terminating the employment of a Police Chief with cause, if a reply or lack of reply violates s21b s22.2 s219 Criminal Code the employment of the Police Chief shall be terminated immediately by the OPSB. The same principle should apply to the power of Council re replace its appointments on the OPSB.

v. Create a bylaw or policy or rule or guideline that OIPRD decisions to screen out policy complaints, does not preclude Police Chief discretion to reply an OIPRD policy complaint decision by creating the requested policy or a policy with similar intent. As determined by the opinion of the OPSB, an unreasonable reply or an unreasonable lack of reply, could be a ground for OPSB terminating the employment of a Police Chief with cause, if a reply or lack of reply violates s21b s22.2 s219 Criminal Code the employment of the Police Chief shall be terminated immediately by the OPSB. The same principle should apply to the power of Council re replace its appointments on the OPSB.

vi. Create a bylaw or policy or rule or guideline that whether the Ottawa Police takes more that 60 days to issue a decision to the OIPRD or the Complainant, the Chief of Police shall provide a written reasonable justification. As determined by the opinion of the OPSB, an unreasonable justification or an unreasonable lack of justification, could be a ground for OPSB terminating the employment of a Police Chief with cause, if a justification or lack of justification violates s21b s22.2 s219 Criminal Code the employment of the Police Chief shall be terminated immediately by the OPSB. The same principle should apply to the power of Council re replace its appointments on the OPSB.

vii. Create a bylaw or policy or rule or guideline that pursuant to the open court constitutional principle, s21b s22.2 s25.1(9)(11b) s34 s35 s494(1a)(2) Criminal Code, s7 Victims Bill of Rights, s7 Charter Rights to life, health, safety, security, neither courts nor administrative tribunals have immunity from the Criminal Code, the OPSB shall create a “Court or Tribunal or Judicial Council Duties Of A Police Officer Procedural Information Sheet” that discloses online, the reasons re each element of the offence for declining charges for out of court (non adjudicative) crimes which includes:

- a) allegedly acting without lawful justification to direct a police officer to violate the criminal code by arresting or investigating anyone as a reprisal for exercising a mandatory Criminal Code right
- b) allegedly violating the s219 Criminal Code which includes acting without lawful justification to: threaten arrest or home seizure or substantial fine, defraud s7 Charter access to health care without obtaining the expert opinion of a medical professional, defraud s8 Charter against unreasonable search and seizure by directing police to open a criminal investigation as a reprisal for exercising mandatory Criminal Code rights, defraud an s9 Charter rights against arbitrary arrest etc. defraud an s10 Charter right to reasons for arrest, defraud s24 Charter access to a court or a tribunal in order to facilitate a criminal code offence,

GROUNDINGS

R. v. Javanmardi, 2019 SCC 54 [18] ..criminal negligence ..219 (1)..(a) in doing anything, or (b) in omitting to do anything that it is his duty to do, shows wanton or reckless disregard for the lives or safety.. [22].. whether the accused's actions created a risk ...whether "a reasonable person would have foreseen the risk and taken steps to avoid it ..[24] ..unlawful act manslaughter ...222 (1) .. when .. indirectly, ... he causes the death ...[55] The actus reus of unlawful act manslaughter has three elements: (1) an underlying unlawful act; (2) the objective dangerousness of that act; and (3) a causal connection between the act and the death.

Kosoian v. Société de transport de Montréal - 2019 SCC 59 - 2019-11-29 [6] .... Every person can therefore legitimately expect that police officers who deal with him or her will comply with the law in force, which necessarily requires them to know the statutes, regulations and by-laws they are called upon to enforce. Police officers are thus obliged to have an adequate knowledge and understanding of the statutes, regulations and by-laws they have to enforce. Police forces and municipal bodies have a correlative obligation to provide police officers with proper training, including with respect to the law in force... [55] Police officers are obliged to have an adequate knowledge and understanding of criminal and penal law, .. and of the rights and freedoms protected by the Charters...[58] ... Citizens rightly expect them to have an adequate knowledge and understanding of the statutes, regulations and by laws .. to maintain peace, order and public security and to prevent and repress crime and offences under the law and by laws (Police Act, s. 48 para. 1) ...[59] The training and instructions given to police officers, as well as internal police force policies, directives and procedures, must be considered ... Similarly, the usual practices are at most a relevant factor. As the Court stated ... "[i]t is not sufficient . . . that the common professional practice be followed in order to avoid liability. That practice has to be demonstrably reasonable" (p. 434). The mere fact that an error of law is repeated does not make it excusable. [60] As professionals responsible for law enforcement, police officers must be able to exercise judgment with respect to the applicable law. They cannot rely blindly on the training and instructions given to them, nor can they mechanically follow internal policies, directives and procedures or usual police practices.
